

Building a Smarter Workforce

Each month our experts will be covering a wide array of topics. We are happy to have you as a member of our community and hope you enjoy reading the articles below; if you would like to see something specific, don't hesitate to reach out!

In Case You Missed It

We held our third annual HR Games Conference. This year's theme was "It's Not a Sprint, It's a Marathon". It took place at the DoubleTree in S. Burlington and had over 100 professionals in attendance. The sessions covered a wide array of topics including Technology, Vermont's Healthcare Delivery System, and Leave of Absence. They were designed to help HR professionals "get across the HR finish line".

Taxability of Wellness Incentives & Rewards

As a general rule, wellness incentives are subject to the same federal tax rules as any other employee reward or prize. They are generally taxable. The IRS has no specific exemption for wellness incentives such as incentives to employees who complete a task (example: a health care assessment form) or paying for gym memberships for example.
